MERCY FOR ANIMALS

The background of the slide is a blue-tinted image. In the foreground, a wooden gavel is visible, angled towards the bottom right. In the background, a person, likely a judge or lawyer, is seen in profile, wearing a white robe and holding a book. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the blue tint dominating the color palette.

The Supreme Court of the United States could undo years of animal protection efforts.

Undercover Investigations

Behind closed doors, animals are suffering at factory farms. Mercy For Animals' brave undercover investigators work to expose and end the abuse.
